NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

In the rush of coming out early two weeks in a row because of Christmas and New Years we failed to mention the fact that Bill Hodnett was named to the All Area defensive team by the Abilene Reporter-News.

Also named on the Class AA honorable mention list were Robert Bolden and Jerry Braiey.

This is quite an honor to be named to the All-Area teams and we know that these boys are very proud to be selected.

We are sorry that we slipped up and did not mention this earlier but the week that we would have written it in this column was the week that we did not write a column.

The following editorial appeared in The Progressive Farmer and was written by C. G. Scruggs. It has appeared in a number of papers across the state that we know of and Mac Reid brought it in the other day and felt that it might be well if more people realized the amazing job that the American Agricultural Industry is doing.

Five million farm workers in the United States produce enough food and fiber for 195 million American and foreign consumers. Thus, America today is blessed to be the only civilization in the recorded history of man to enjoy the "Age of Food Abundance."

One American farm worker produces enough to feed and clothe himself and almost 50 others. Food-power, USA! Miracle of all time!

In the 18th century, Adam Smith, the noted economist, earned much derision from his fellow economists by predicting:

"When the time comes that one farm worker, through improvement and cultivation of the land, can provide food for just two people, the labor of half of the society will be able to provide food for the whole society. Then and only then can the other half of the people be employed in providing the other wants and fancies of mankind."

Through the unparalleled efficiency of American agricultural producers, 95% of the United States population is free to dream, to study, to strike, to launch rockets to the moon, to indulge in "other wants and fancies."

Adam Smith's hoped-for utopia has been so far exceeded by America that his explosive idea seems rather ridiculous. But Smith's 18th century dream is reality in Russia today. There, half of the population is required to produce enough food for the other half. In Communist China, a "guesstimated" 75% of the population is required for production of the barest food subsistence.

Think about it.

In 1900, every American family spent 40% of its disposable income on food. Today, the average family spends only 17% of its disposable income on food.

In the past 20 years, average farm prices have gone down 9%. Hourly earnings of manufacturing workers have gone up 127%. Corporate dividends have gone up 251%.

In 1920, it took 4 hours and 29 minutes of work to buy a pound of steak, a pound of pork, a quart of milk, a dozen eggs, a dozen oranges, and a 10-pound sack of potatoes.

Today, it requires only 1 hour and 30 minutes of work to purchase those same items—plus built-in maid service of frozen orange juice, frozen ready-to-cook potatoes, and other conveniences of packaging. The remaining hours of work can be used to buy color TV's, boats, swimming pools, air conditioning, dishwashers, weekend cabins, and three-week vacations.

Thus we can all join the Psalmist in his thankful cry: "The earth has yielded its increase; God, our God, has blessed us."

Agent Gives Tips On Care of Ice Damaged Trees

The recent ice storm has caused considerable damage to many shade trees and other ornamental plants in the Jones County area, says Jones County Agent Kirby Clayton. Clayton suggest that special care be taken to prune the trees properly and treat all wounds with an antiseptic or tree paint to prevent bacterial infection or damage from borers which may be attracted to the open wounds.

The agent suggest that all split or broken limbs be

AUSTIN — Lagging voter registration may spell bad news for Democratic officials, according to no less an authority than U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Yarborough called a news conference in the Statehouse the day after State Republican Chairman William Steger of Tyler announced Texas GOP's plan to field strong candidates for both senator and governor this year.

Steger cited a poll as the basis of Republican hopes, but Yarborough said registration statistics, not polls, are the real cause for Democrats to be wary. He said 80 per cent of Republican strength already has registered in such large counties as Harris, Dallas and Midland, while the sign-up is poor in traditional Democratic strongholds.

On that same day, Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. urged all eligible adult Texans to exercise their constitutional rights by registering.

pruned back below the split and that the cuts be made at a slant so as to shed moisture and help prevent bacterial infection. He also suggested that all cuts be swabbed with alcohol or another good antiseptic and then painted over with an asphalt base tree dressing or paint to help keep out rain and bacteria.

The agent cautions against the use of tar or creosote compounds on tree wounds. These materials are toxic to the cambium layer beneath the bark and may prevent the wound from healing over.

For further information, contact your county agent's office.

ing. Dies is the state's chief election officer. January 31 is the registration deadline. Dies issued these reminders:

Any citizen 21 years of age or older on the day of an election, who has been a resident of the state for at least one year and a resident of his home county for six months immediately preceding the election, is qualified to register for voting.

Eligible persons may register by personal appearance at the main office, branch office or authorized substitution of the home county tax assessor - collector. Written applications may also be made to the tax assessor-collector.

The husband, wife, mother, father, son or daughter of a voter may act as his agent in registering if the agent is a qualified voter.

A person who moves to Texas after October 1 may register during the regular period or afterward but must have been registered for 30 days before voting.

Any person who will meet qualifications before Feb. 28, 1971, may register during the regular period. Those who will become 21 after January 31 may register during the regular period or afterward.

Still Going Together

Cotton and cattle are still going together.

Gone is the legendary cowboy who, with swirling rope and hissing branding iron, tamed the wild longhorn. Except for actual "working of cattle," the man on his mount has long since been motorized.

Gone, too, is the adventurous ranch life that was "hell on horses and women." Derring-do has faded away and the automobile, airplane, telephone and technology have banished solitude and drudgery. Home on the range has become sophisticated.

However, cottonseed meal, that valuable by-product of the cotton plant, has not disappeared from the cattle-raising scene. Far from it. Over a million tons of cottonseed meal are consumed annually by beef cattle. Dairy cattle eat up another half million tons.

What's in the meal that creates such demand? P.E.P. That stands for Protein, Energy, Phosphorous. Cattle need all three year-round for steady weight gains, good calf production, abundant milk and early weaning. Whenever grazing grasses fail to provide the right amounts of P.E.P., supplemental feeding with cottonseed meal is the safest, most economical way to get the job done, according to the National Cotton Council.

Take the well-known Swenson ranches at Stamford, Texas, which embrace 258,000 acres surrounded by barbed wire strung around for 650 miles. The fencing divides the four big spreads into smaller pastures to facilitate round-ups, control grazing and conserve grass.

The famous SMS brand (derived from the initials of Svante Magnus Swenson, who came from Sweden to settle in Texas in 1836) identifies 23,000 head of Hereford cattle. For over 50 years, the SMS ranches have produced top quality feeder calves and yearlings for commercial feed lots.

In normal years, despite the pesky mesquite, SMS pastures are covered with nourishing grasses but in wintertime the Swensons use cottonseed meal (in the form of pellets commonly called cake) as a regular supplemental feed.

As a matter of fact, ranch manager A. M. "Swede" Swenson, a former University of Texas football star, points out that in 1902 "our family started a cottonseed oil mill to make sure we had a regular supply of cottonseed cake for our cattle. We've been using it ever since."

Regarding mesquite, its present range far into the Southwest is believed to have resulted from seeds scattered during the thundering cattle drives of yesteryear. Mesquite is a spiny shrub or small tree with roots sometimes penetrating as deep as 70 feet. Its lacy, shadeless foliage has no grazing value. It exudes a gummy sap which is commercially worthless. So is the wood, though it was once used to make railroad ties.

The rapid sprouting of mesquite and the way it takes over pasture lands poses a constant threat to cattlemen. Early in the century, the Swenson ranches were overrun by prairie dogs which ate much of the grass and also mesquite seedlings. The prairie dogs were finally eliminated by poison but then the mesquite took over. Today, under a six-year rotating eradication program, the Swensons use treedozers, root cutters and anchor chains to keep the mesquite under control.

It's all part of modern ranching designed to insure properly managed nutrition. That, coupled with scientific breeding policies, means constant improvement in cattle quality which, in turn, provides the best in beef for the dining room table.

Since deer tend to repeat the same movement patterns daily, the first objective of any scouting trip should be to locate heavily and recently used deer trails or trails pitted by many fresh tracks.

Neinda Philosopher Wants to Supply Russia With Cars to Equalize Balance of Pollution

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One attacks the air pollution problem in his own peculiar way this week.

Dear editor:

Although I fought against it, at the turn of the year I had to make a trip into Abilene and the man I was riding with got caught in a traffic jam, cars in four lanes backed up for fifteen or twenty blocks in both directions with all motors running, and I have concluded the articles I've been reading in the newspapers lately about air pollution are right. It's terrible.

Then last night, after reading another article, I got to thinking and have figured out what we ought to do about it.

According to it, the Russian people are clamoring for more cars, the waiting list for the few cars now being produced is so long children as they grow older replace their parents in line.

In fact, in the whole of Russia there are now only a million passenger cars, which means one car for every 200 people. In the United States, there's a car for every 3 people, which means if the notion struck them everybody in the entire country could ride around at the same time, if they could get by the trucks which aren't included in these figures. This literally means everybody and his dogs and in-laws too.

It's this Russian demand for more cars that interests me.

Services Held Here Saturday for Mrs. Ella Cox, 78

Services for Mrs. Ella (Garrett) Cox, 78, were held Saturday, Dec. 27, at the Church of the Nazarene. A resident of Oklahoma City, Okla., for approximately 30 years, Mrs. Cox died there at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 23.

Rev. Marshall Stewart, pastor, and Rev. Joe Norton, Nazarene Evangelist, officiated.

Born Jan. 12, 1891, in Hill County, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Garrett. She married Hugh Cox in Bethany, Okla., in 1957.

Survivors include four brothers, Clarence Garrett of Hamlin, Walter Garrett of Bethany, Okla., George Garrett of Live Oak, Calif., and Henry of Joshua Tree, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Thomas (Vera) Bigham.

She was a member of the Church of the Nazarene.

Pallbearers were J. E. McCoy, Raleigh Reynolds, Manny Johnson, Bill Smith, Sam Ferguson and Alton Mayfield.

I don't care what it costs, if the United States is smart it'll start shipping cars to Russia by the hundreds of thousands. It doesn't make any difference what the terms are, even if we have to take two cans of cabbage soup and a loaf of black bread as the downpayment, just so we get the cars over there and running.

It's not the balance of power it's the balance of pollution that's going to make one country equal to another and if we don't get Russia and the rest of the world up on our level we're in trouble.

To get the program started, I've got a 1951 model car out here on this Johnson grass farm I'll be glad to export to Russia for a very reasonable figure provided it goes to somebody living in the heart of the metropolitan area of Moscow. It burns a quart of oil every 25 miles.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Everett Beaver Seeks Another Term In Office

It has been my privilege to serve as your county school superintendent for several years. Your confidence and trust has made this possible. My family and I are grateful for the support which has been ours. Accept this statement as our expression of appreciation.

In addition to the expression of gratitude for the privilege you have made possible, this opportunity is taken to ask reelection. If you choose to return me to the county superintendent's office for another term, you will receive the same honest, prompt, courteous, and efficient service you have always received.

My qualifications have been presented to you before, but please permit me to outline these for you again.

I am fifty-nine years of age, and married to the former Muriel Kelso. We have two daughters, ages fifteen and seventeen. I have served my town, county, state and nation as an active, christian citizen, a practice I shall continue.

I was graduated from the Hamlin High School and have the Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees from the University of Texas, with specialization in school administration, Spanish, the social sciences, and business education. In addition to this formal training, I have kept diligently abreast of the latest trends in education and related fields through reading and all other available means of communication. As long as I serve, you have assurance I shall keep current in my thinking and philosophy.

My school experience includes teaching in the classroom, coaching, and administration of public schools in addition to my experience in the county superintendent's office.

Since our contact with the public is somewhat limited, we believe you should know something of the duties performed in the office.

We serve one twelve-grade, fully-accredited school system in almost the same manner as any other superintendent serves his district, and in addition to those duties, three cooperative programs are provided from this office, one in supervision involving five schools, one in health involving four schools, and one in remedial reading and library supervision serving two schools. The Jones County Transportation System is under the jurisdiction of the county board of school trustees and this office; almost complete transportation service is afforded three of the county's six schools. Space will not permit the enumeration of routine services.

The salaries of the county superintendent and of all employees of the office are paid by the state. The major portion of the supplies and equipment are also state financed. The county furnishes office space and a few supplies.

The opportunity to serve you has meant much to me and my family. As said previously, we are humbly grateful. It has been and will be our policy to go beyond the call of duty; you are invited to try us for verification.

Sincerely submitted,
Everett Beaver,
Co. Supt. of Schools

a little BIG NOW

We all get a thrill out of seeing our children put on our hats or shoes. Obviously they don't fit now, but some day he, or she will grow to fit them. At the same time imagine that they are trying on our lives. Would they fit? ... or do you live the type of life that you would want them to grow to. Live a life of worship of the Lord.

"Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Recent holiday visitors in the home of Mrs. Katie Gerloff included three of her sons and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ray Gerloff and Diane of Belen, N. Mex., Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gerloff of Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gerloff of Abilene, also her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Herttenberger of Paducah. Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Woffard and Tempa moved to Abilene last week. We regret losing them from our community but wish them well. Jeff is attending Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

This community lost a prominent and beloved citizen last week. R. O. Gibson, Sr. died Friday at Stamford Memorial Hospital. He was one of the oldest settlers here, coming to Stonewall County in 1889. Mrs. Gibson died in January of 1969.

Those of you who subscribe to Farmer's Stockman magazine might want to turn to page 7 to see the picture of one of our former citizens if you missed seeing it. It is a picture of Jay Pumphrey of Wort Worth, 1st vice-president of the American Quarter Horse Association.

Mrs. Hertha Mischer of Abilene was here several days last week visiting her sister, Mrs. Adele Dudensing, a cousin, Mrs. Tillie Dippel, and other friends and relatives.

Mrs. Bernice White visited with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powers, Victor and Julie at Clyde New Year's Day.

Judy White was a guest in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Jack Key in Abilene New Year's Day.

County Agent Gives Advice On Planting

The planting season for barerooted plants such as mulberry, roses and fruit trees is at hand. Selection of such plants along with planting sites should be made soon, advises County Agent Kirby Clayton.

Don't wait until trees have been bought to prepare the holes for planting for successful plant survival depends upon the production of small root hairs which develop on the larger roots. It is best, points out the county agent, as soon as possible after your favorite nurseryman receives his barerooted plants.

The plants should then be planted immediately. This means their root systems will not have a chance to dry out and they can become well established before plants leaf out in the spring.

When the plants are bought late in the season, the root hairs will have developed in the "healing in pit" and many will be either broken or lost when the plants are removed.

Plants which do not transplant well by the bareroot method are sold in containers and these should be handled with care to prevent breakage of the soil ball when they are removed from the container.

A broken soil ball can mean that numerous small root hairs will be damaged or destroyed and the plant will show signs of wilting in a very short time. Cut the can on both sides, pry the side away gently and grasp the bottom and lift out.

Measure the depth of the hole and compare it with the plant to be planted. Adjust the amount of soil in the hole so that the plant will set at the proper depth. This avoids the unnecessary removal of the plant from the hole to make planting depth adjustments and greatly lessens the risk of breaking the soil ball, says the county agent.

It's attention to the little things at planting time that gets plants off to a good start and earns for the gardener the reputation as a "green thumb" specialist.

in Lubbock and she was Lubbock's first baby, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hood.
